Dear Stan:

I can't thank you enough for joining us in Phoenix and key noting our annual meeting. Yours was a terrific presentation, and the questions were handled beautifully.

After you had left and for the next several days, we continued to hear nothing but wonderful comments. And Douglas Edwards, who incidentally I enjoyed very much, mentioned your great strength and excellent presentation a number of times throughout his talk. He further suggested that it would be wonderful if men of your caliber were running for the presidency.

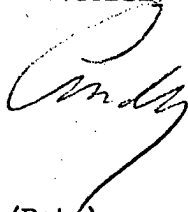

The rest of the week went very well. How could it be otherwise with such an excellent start !

Good luck in settling your new home. I am anxious to hear how the jacuzzi works.

Anna joins me in very best wishes to both of you. Hope to see you soon.

Best regards.

Sincerely yours,
